Booth Activities

The activity strategy is built on one idea: create visible energy that pulls in passersby, generates a natural queue, and gives the team time to qualify leads while visitors wait.

Mini Golf — "The Payment Race"

Two-lane mini golf. One lane is blocked with obstacles representing old payment friction (delays, fees, failed transactions). The other is clear — straight to the hole — representing Aryze Pay by Bank. Both run simultaneously.

- Obstacle lane: barriers labelled with bank delays, FX friction, chargebacks
- Clear lane: fast, unobstructed — "The Aryze Way"
- Leaderboard on tablet — fastest time wins an Aryze Viking
- New round starts every hour — creates urgency and a queue
- One team member runs the activity; the other works the queue to qualify leads

Live Demo — Pay by Bank & FX Swap

Live product demo running at the booth at all times. Visitors can input a real scenario and see settlement speed vs. traditional rails side by side. The demo is the conversation starter — not the close.

Lead Capture

Before playing the mini golf challenge, attendees sign up via a dedicated Aryze-branded webpage on a tablet at the booth. The form collects the fields below and submits directly to the NBC Stockholm contact list in Brevo. On successful submission, a confirmation screen is shown, and the attendee is directed to the golf station. To be built before the conference.

Field	Purpose
Full Name	CRM entry and personalised follow-up
Company	Qualify lead fit by product
Position	Identify decision-maker tier
Email	Post-event Brevo nurture sequence

- Hot lead (decision-maker, clear pain): book a call before leaving the booth
- Warm lead (right company, wrong role): flag for follow-up
- Cold lead: add to Brevo newsletter list

Post-Event Follow-Up

- All leads uploaded to Brevo CRM by evening of 27 May
- Email 1 (within 48hrs): personal note + relevant one-pager attached
- Email 2 (day 3): product deep-dive link
- Email 3 (day 7): soft CTA — demo call or webinar invite
